

Dear Admission Committee,

My name is Xiang'an Chen, and I am writing to express my sincere interest in applying for admission to the MA in Economics Department program at Harvard University. As a student from the School of Economics at Renmin University of China, I have developed a strong foundation in economic theory and quantitative analysis.

During my studies at Renmin University, I have been particularly impressed by the rigorous academic environment and the emphasis on critical thinking. I have actively participated in various research projects and seminars, which have further fueled my passion for MA in Economics Department. I am eager to delve deeper into the field and contribute to cutting-edge research.

I am particularly drawn to Harvard University's renowned faculty and their expertise in MA in Economics Department. I believe that the MA in Economics Department program at Harvard University will provide me with the necessary knowledge and skills to achieve my career goals of being an outstanding entrepreneur.

I am confident that my academic background, research experience, and strong work ethic make me a suitable candidate for your program. I am excited about the opportunity to learn from the best and contribute to the vibrant academic community at Harvard University .
Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Xiang'an Chen